

Omar Woodard is Executive Director at HRS Management, where he leads and advises on impact investing and philanthropy efforts across the private investment platform. Prior to joining HRS, Omar was Vice President of Solutions at Results for America (RFA) where he advised government leaders on using data and evidence in policymaking, and supported collaborative, community-led efforts across the U.S. to accelerate economic mobility.

Omar spent nearly ten years as a social impact investor in roles as executive director of GreenLight Fund Philadelphia, and principal at Venture Philanthropy Partners. He spent his early career in global, federal, state, and local government affairs across a range of roles: registered foreign agent and federal lobbyist at the Whitaker Group, policy director for the PA State Senate Minority Whip, policy director for a Philadelphia mayoral campaign, and urban policy aide to a U.S. Congressman and appropriator.

A North Philadelphia native and current resident, Omar excelled at foreign languages while attending Girard College. After a high school internship at Penn's Department of Middle Eastern and Asian Affairs, he attended the George Washington University's Elliott School of International Affairs where he specialized in international economics and Arabic language and literature. He completed graduate studies at George Washington University in nonprofit management and governance as a Presidential Fellow.

Omar serves on the boards of the United Way of Greater Philadelphia, the Philadelphia Alliance for Capital and Technology (PACT), PA Alliance Foundation, and chairs the Finance and Investments committee of the Independence Public Media Foundation. He is a Term Member of the Council on Foreign Relations, and is a former board member of the Global Philadelphia Association.
